Typography

Heading Font: Times New Roman

is appropriate for reading plain texts such as contracts and for that purpose, it uses space economically – nothing more, nothing less. Legibility and economy of space. The two characteristics "legibility" and "economy of space" interact. Legibility is a term of art
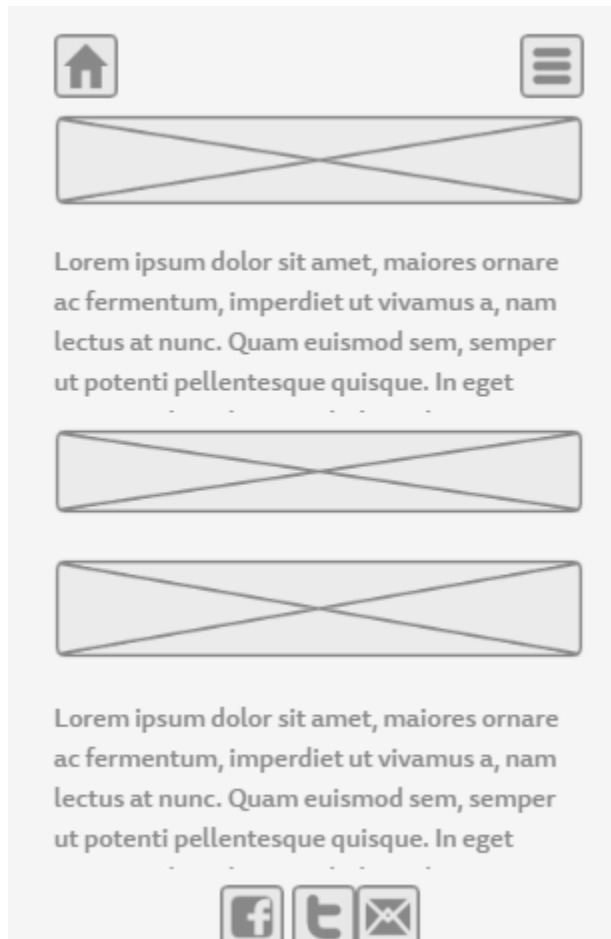

Paragraph Font: Arial

Arial will certainly work in more cases than any font-face, and of course, any media type. On top of that, most users won't need to load additional files, so it means less requests , more speed and arguably more elegant code. In short: consistency, speed, coverage.
